'CHUCK WAGON' CALL SOUNDED

Old Time Cowpunchers Coming to Town for 18th Annual "Roundup."

Beat it over to the chuck wagon, an' tell the doctor to get busy on the go-gettin' grub layout that ever celebrated the close of the roundup! 'Cause the honest-to-goodness old-timers is comin' to town, pardner, an' all the boys in El Paso is goin' to see that they have a real time!

The 18th annual convention of the Panhandle and Southwestern Stockmen's association opens here Tuesday, an' believe me, he, we're here to see that they go back to the range sayin' El Paso showed 'em nothin' but the real stuff!

Preparations for Reception Complete. Preparations for the reception of the delegates and visitors to the convention were complete Monday morning. Hundreds of stockmen with the families are arriving and hundreds more are expected before the first session of the convention which opens Tuesday afternoon.

Abner T. Wilson, of Clifton, Ariz., president of the organization, arrived in El Paso Sunday. He was met by other officers and at once entered into a conference arranged by them to complete details to be presented at the meeting of the executive committee Tuesday afternoon at the Hotel Paso del Norte.

Hotels Filled With Visitors. All the principal hotels of the city are filled to capacity for this week as a result of the requests for reservations which have been pouring in for the last three weeks from all parts of the southwest. The largest attendance of any convention in the history of the cattlemen's association is expected.

Streets and Buildings Decorated. San Francisco street is decorated with flags and welcome banners. The last of these decorations were put in place Sunday afternoon by a chamber of commerce committee headed by Maurice Schwartz. Other streets in the business section of the city are adorned with similar decorations. Many of the large stores and business blocks of the city are decorating in honor of the visiting stockmen.

Convention Opens 2 p. m. Tuesday. The convention is to open Tuesday morning with a grand military review of troops of the regular army and the federalized militia. At 1:15 o'clock Tuesday officials and members of the association will be serenaded at their hotels. Then they will proceed to the Texas Grand theater for the opening session of the convention. A band concert will precede the calling of the convention to order at 2 o'clock. The invocation is to be delivered by Rev. R. L. Millican.

Program To Be Followed. Mayor Tom Lea and W. W. Turner will deliver addresses of welcome to which C. T. Herring of Amarillo, will respond. The annual address of the president will be delivered by president Abner T. Wilson. W. L. Ammonett, secretary, and John M. Wyatt, treasurer, will make their reports, and committees for the following year will be appointed.

Addresses upon livestock conditions in the Panhandle, in west Texas, New Mexico and Arizona, and in Mexico will be delivered by P. H. Landergin, of Amarillo, and Dwight B. Heard, of Phoenix, Arizona.

Dance Tuesday Night on Plaza. Tuesday evening a dance will be held in Pioneer plaza. Entertainment for the visiting stockmen will be staged at the larger hotels.

The Frontier days contests to be held in conjunction with the convention of the cowmen will start at Rio Grande park Wednesday. Prizes of $1000 have been offered in the steer roping and broncho riding contests. Exhibitions of trick and fancy roping, steer bull-dogging, novelty races, and potato races will be staged at the contests. "Tex" Austin is managing the frontier days contests.

PAVE THE WAY FOR ELECTING WILSON

Clifton Cattleman says, However, Is Not Candidate for Presidency.

The way for the reelection of Abner T. Wilson of Clifton, Ariz., to the presidency of the Panhandle & Southwestern Stockmen's association was paved in a resolution presented and adopted at the executive committee meeting Monday morning on the mezzanine floor of the First National bank, which provided that an officer of the association who has proved himself able and efficient would be eligible for reelection. The resolution was presented by C. T. Herring, of Amarillo, Texas, and was seconded by F. N. Hall of El Paso.

Mr. Wilson declined himself as not being a candidate for reelection to the presidency. He said that he believed that the president should be located more centrally in the district from which the association draws its membership, and said that his residence in Arizona made it impossible for him to be in quick communication with the other officers of the association.

Secretary William L. Ammonett, of the association, presented several statements on financial matters.

Committees Are Appointed. The executive committee appointed the following committees, which will make reports before the sessions of the convention:

Bylaws—William Harrell, chairman; R. de Graffenreid, Buchanan, N. M., and E. L. Johnson, Wilcox, Ariz.

Resolutions—C. T. Herring, Amarillo, chairman; W. L. Tooley and D. F. White, El Paso.

Gratuities and claims—D. F. White.
